NICCO

pavers

A collection of concrete pavers, cobblestones, flagstones and decorative elements with 18th Century styling.

Reconstituted stone pavements, of rustic and old appearance, manufactured using artisan methods. In thanks to our alliance with a French firm that has been creating this fantastic product for more than 30 years.

These pieces have been installed around the world, varying from those where a modern look is desired to the ones where a rustic feel is desired, or where historical conservation is of vital importance.

Some installations worth mentioning include the Citadel in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, the downtown area of the city of Daimel, Spain and numerous private residences in the Italian Riviera.

One of the most appreciated qualities of this product is its great response to use, not only because it handles high traffic and the test of time extremely well, but also its appearance improves with time up to the point that not even stone experts can differentiate it from actual stone. It has a very high resistance to wear, anti slip qualities even when wet and it is frost resistant.
